Using Python NetworkX to parse through our JSON files to create a topology graph, It filters out Ips that are outside of the network and duplicates, then when its done parsing it spits out a topology.